

Sage Agastya said, “Welcome Rāma! Blessed is today that gave me the chance to meet You. You have become my beloved guest. Today my life has become fruitful.”

Lakṣmaṇa, as commanded by Rāma, caught Śūrpaṅakhā and with his sword cut off her nose and ears.